REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD OF THE TOWN OF DUBLIN, N. H.,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEB. 15, 1898.

In submitting this seventy-sixth annual report of the schools of Dublin, we would say in passing, that while the Towns require an annual report of all the schools on or before the 15th of February, the Superintendent of Public Instruction requires a report the 1st of August of each year. This, if not unfortunate, is to say the least, inconvenient, as it necessitates two separate reports the same year and much extra labor.

The town appropriated at the annual March meeting twelve hundred dollars for the support of schools, which together with the amount unexpended from last year's appropriation, has given us twenty-seven weeks of school divided into two terms, one of twelve and the other of fifteen weeks. While fifteen weeks is a long and somewhat tiresome term, especially for the younger scholars, yet at the same time we deem it the best arrangement that can be made when the scholars—many of them—have to travel a considerable distance to reach the schoolhouse, as many of them do in the scattered country districts.

If the schools were divided into three terms with a holiday vacation, as in the village graded schools, it would prolong them late into the winter, the season of severe weather and drifting snow storms, when it would be impossible for the younger pupils to attend, of which we have ample proof this present winter.

Eight different teachers have been employed during the past year. Most of them experienced in their work. Some of them with a long and enviable record as successful teachers and all of them thoroughly qualified. They were earnest and faithful in their labors and good progress crowned their efforts. We regret to record that on account of ill health one of the teachers was compelled to give up her school at the end of the tenth week. In this school there were two weeks vacation before we could obtain another to take her place. We are sorry to notice in two or three of the schools an unusual number of absent marks and in one or two of tardiness, the same. The former can be accounted for in part by removal from town and illness of pupils. Both should be avoided so far as possible, punctuality being the mainspring of success.

Teachers in our ungraded schools have in years past and are still laboring under the great disadvantage of a multiplicity of classes, rendering it, in many cases, absolutely impossible for them to do justice to all. This matter has of late received much thought from those most interested in the welfare of our public schools, and earnest efforts are being put forth to correct, so far as may be, this unfortunate condition. We have endeavored to follow, so far as practicable, the course of study formulated by the Cheshire County School Board Association with considerable benefit, but there is much room for improvement yet.

With many, perhaps, the larger majority of our pupils, the district school will be their only opportunity for obtaining an education, and for this reason those branches should first be thoroughly mastered which will be of practical importance in after life, such as Reading, Spelling, English Composition, Arithmetic, Bookkeeping, Geography, and History, especially the history of our own country. And here we would suggest that for the more advanced classes in reading, the history of our country, including the Constitution of our State and of the United States, Ethics and Hygiene take the place, to a considerable extent, of our regular reading books, the subjects being interspersed with suitable comments from the teacher. And while these readings are in progress let the younger pupils lay aside their books and give attention, thus early instilling into their minds a lively interest in these subjects. This plan has already been followed to some extent with gratifying success.

In closing we beg leave to say that while we fully appreciate the importance of securing the best of teachers for our public schools, at the same time a vast responsibility rests upon the parents. It is for them to decide, in a great measure—so far as their own children are concerned at least—whether the term shall be a success or a failure. The child should be early taught that with him, in part, rests the future weal or woe of this great and glorious nation, as well as his own individual success or failure in life. He should also be taught self-respect and to consider the schoolroom and its surroundings as sacred as the home, then no unintelligible hieroglyphics or worse would mar the school buildings, and above all, the parents should put themselves thoroughly en rapport with the teachers, giving them all the aid and encouragement in their power. By this means alone can our common schools be brought to their highest standard of usefulness.
